THERE is a rumor current in this community that John Fetterly, the founder and proprietor of the tiling plant at this place, will leave for Salersville, where the people offer him a bonus of $1,500 cash to move his plant there. We said "rumor," but as soon as we heard it we interviewed Mr. Fetterly to get the facts, and he verified what we had heard. He said he was greatly discouraged because out of about thirty-five who had signed contracts to use the tiling only three have complied with their promises, and meantime he has the tiling already burned, and ready to burn more than fill all contracts. This was more or less expensive, and he told the writer of this that all the money he has received will not pay the interest on his investment for one month, to say nothing of the running expense. Individually we have no land to tile, but for the good of the country we should hate to see Mr. Fetterly pull up his plant and move it, and we believe he will do so unless he meets with some encouragement. In the first place, all who have contracted with him for tiling should comply with their promise and pay him whether they are prepared to put it down or not. One thing is reasonably sure, and that is that if he is allowed to leave by reason of the lethargy of the people here, the farmers who own low lands will forever regret it, and within the next decade they will be hauling tiling from Salersville. The best thing our people can do is to keep him here.

Make Home Look Pleasant.

Spring has come with all its glory and this is usually the time for painting and fixing up. Make your home look as if there were a little enterprise about you. Take the garden rake and collect all the old tin cans and other rubbish which have accumulated during the past winter and burn it up and destroy it. Look after your back yard and clean that up also. Several of our people have already painted and otherwise improved the appearance of their premises, but many others in our town would do well to emulate their example.

DEATH COMES

Without Warning to Prof. W. H. Cord—Well-Known Educator and Minister.

The citizens of Mt. Sterling were greatly shocked at a little before noon yesterday when news was received by phone from the Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute, located in the suburbs of the city, that Prof. W. H. Cord, the principal of that institution, had dropped dead. Prof. Cord was sitting in his chair teaching a class and seemingly in the best of health, when suddenly he remarked, "Wait a minute, I feel very badly," and before any of the scholars could reach his side he fell forward and was dead when he struck the floor. Apoplexy was the cause of his death.

Prof. Cord came here several years ago from Hazel Green and established the Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute, and so rapidly did the school grow under his efficient management that last year new buildings had to be erected to accommodate the institution's rapidly increasing patronage. There are 184 pupils on the roll at the time of Prof. Cord's death, and he was beloved and respected by each and every one of them.

He was a pronounced success as an educator and was an able and sincere minister of the gospel, having filled the pulpits in nearly all of the Christian churches in this section of the state.

Prof. Cord was a man of the highest Christian character and had the confidence and esteem of the people of this community to a marked degree; he was always on the side of right and against wrong, and was a most excellent citizen and gentleman; his words and works will live long in the memory of the many who knew and loved him. His death is not only a great loss to his family, but is a distinct loss to Mt. Sterling, and is universally regretted. Prof. Cord would have been 46 years of age in November and was a native of Fleming county.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, Prof. Robt. I. Cord, Raymond and William Henry Cord.

The arrangements for the funeral had not been made at the time we went to press.—Sen.-Dem.

Points Regarding the Census.

The census begins tomorrow, April 15, and must be completed in two weeks in cities and in thirty days in all other areas.

The enumerators will wear a badge inscribed "United States Census, 1910."

The law requires every adult person to furnish the prescribed information, but also provides that it shall be treated confidentially, so that no injury can come to any person from answering the questions.

The President has issued a proclamation, calling on all citizens to cooperate with the census and assuring them that it has nothing to do with taxation, army or jury service, compulsory school attendance, or enforcement of any law, and that no one can be injured by answering the inquiries.

It is of the utmost importance that the census of population and agriculture in this state be complete and correct.

Therefore every person should promptly, accurately, and completely answer the census questions asked by the enumerators.

S. X. Swimme Married Again.

The following, reproduced from the Big Sandy News, will be read with interest by Mr. Swimme's acquaintances in this section:

Muskogee, Okla., March 29.—As every piece of machinery stood silent Rev. Seneca Xenophon Swimme, 44 years of age, minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, of Checotah, Okla., and Mrs. Lena Brown, 40, also of Checotah, were married at midnight in the editorial rooms of the Phoenix.

Rev. Swimme once upon a time was a newspaper man, "a reformed newspaper man," he now styles himself. Last winter during the Bulgin revival he covered the meetings for the Phoenix. Rev. Swimme met Mrs. Brown at Checotah two months ago. The two stole away from their friends last night.

Swimme at one time was a member of the Western Virginia Conference. A year or so ago he tried to publish a newspaper in Pikeville. His wife died, and he put his young children into the Children's Home, Louisville.

Oscar Wallen was shot and killed by his cousin, Ben Blankenship, in Lawrence county, last week. An old grudge is said to be the cause. Blankenship escaped and is supposed to be hiding in the mountains of West Virginia.

A petition was presented to Governor Willson asking the pardon of Curt Jett, who is serving two life sentences in the penitentiary. Counter petitions were largely signed by residents of Breathitt county and forwarded to the governor.

Thomas Clayton, aged 70 years, was drowned in a spring on his place near McKinnessburg, in Pendleton county. He leaned over to get a bucket of water, lost his balance and fell in. His little grandson was with him, but was unable to pull him out.

Cecil Frazier, aged 58 years, died at Frankfort last week from the effects of paralysis, with which he was stricken while attending a meeting of the capital commission in Governor Willson's office. He was assistant landscape gardener on the capital grounds.

A little daughter of C. H. Estep, of the Low Gap section, in Johnson county, sucked a bean into her windpipe. An operation was performed, but the little one died before the operation was finished. The child was almost dead when the operation commenced and this step was taken as a last resort.

W. J. Rice, the Olive Hill banker who was indicted for making false statements in his report to the secretary of state, and for which he gave bond, now languishes in Carter county jail in default of $8,000 bond, under an indictment recently returned by the grand jury charging embezzlement and receiving money under false pretenses.

Did you ever notice that two or three good seasons for growing tobacco are generally followed by an equal number of drouth seasons, when all the land in the Burley Belt would not produce a bumper crop? And have you noticed that ideal seasons for growing tobacco have prevailed throughout the Burley Belt for about three years, and that an off season is due? It's worth noticing.—Dover News.

Some people think that they cannot be taught anything about farming, but as good a farmer as Senator Mathers told us that while he was in Harrison last year electioneering he saw a man running a tooth harrow over his sod ground before plowing, and that he tried it this year and found that the work was easier on his teams and that the sod turned over and broke up like stubble ground.—Carlisle Mercury.

CHURCH AND PRESS TO WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Both Asked to Aid in the Campaign Conducted to Get Rid of Plague.

The National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has planned a tuberculosis Sunday for April the 24th. They are asking that in every church in the United States a sermon or lecture on this important subject be delivered that day. The Association has prepared to supply every local association in the country with material to be given to the various ministers and others, from which to prepare such sermons or lectures.

The Kentucky Association has its headquarters in Louisville and an application to Miss Harriet E. Anderson, acting secretary, 215 East Walnut street, Louisville, Ky., will bring such literature. C. L. Adler, president of the association, earnestly requests that all ministers in the state of Kentucky shall join in this national movement on April 24th.

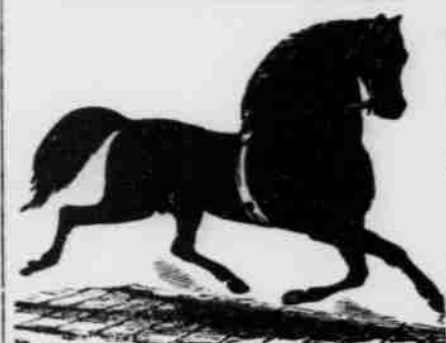

Kentucky badly needs preaching of the gospel of education on this subject. The disease can be eradicated, and eradicated only by cleanliness, healthful living and the knowledge of the means by which it is spread. Kentucky is suffering more from the disease than all but two or three states of the union. She is ignorant of her condition and, if we are to judge by the acts of the recent legislature, unwilling to take the necessary steps to better it. Public agitation and education alone can help us. Will the newspapers of Kentucky bring this matter to the attention of every minister in the state.

Bishop Nelson, of Albany, says: "Having labored with some success to point out the danger (of the disease), we are now confident that the cure of this disease depend upon improvements in conditions of personal and social life. Whatever the churches may be able to do along this line will be a double contribution to physical and spiritual betterment, and I should think that all would wish to have a share in such an enterprise."

There is no constitutional objection to the joining of the press and church in any great movement for the advancement of the health or morals of the people, and in this movement the Kentucky Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis calls particularly on the press and church to aid.

THE HERALD.

James Wilson passed thru town Monday with a small drove of cattle for the Mt. Sterling market.

Wanted—At once 5,000 railroad ties, delivered at Hazel Green. Apply to J. T. Day.

The census enumerators will begin "nosing" around tomorrow. Be ready to answer all questions as Uncle Sam is very positive in his requirements.

Mrs. Lula Kash has the thanks of the editor and his better seven-eighths for a half-gallon jar of sweet beet pickles and a quart of delightful apple butter.

J. T. Day has just returned from Cincinnati, where he purchased a fine stock of general merchandise for his racket store. But he won't write his ad until his goods get in.

Mrs. W. T. Caskey has the thanks of the editor and his better seven-eighths for a variety of pickles, including chow-chow, or mixed pickles, whole cucumber and beet pickles.

Miss Stella L. Clark, of Toliver, was a pleasant visitor at THE HERALD office yesterday and replenished our exchequer to the extent of a year's subscription to the "Best Paper on Earth."

Elsewhere will be found the card of Hazel Green Hotel, Asa B. Ewing, manager, and he invites the patronage of the traveling public, promising them good treatment and fare at reasonable rates.

IMPROVE YOUR CHICKENS.—I have Rhode Island Reds, at which cost $1 each; Yellow and Brown Leghorns, 50 cents each, and pure Plymouth Rocks, 50 cents each. They are mixed some; a setting of 17 eggs, 35 cents. Apply to MRS. LULA KASH, Hazel Green, Ky.

Silas Rose, of Stillwell, was in town Monday and paid up his subscription to THE HERALD. He also subscribed for the paper for W. F. Elkins, who formerly lived in this county, but who now resides at Stonewall, Okla.

Mrs. Chas. Keyser, of Paintsville, who has been visiting Charley Cecil and family, of our town, left Tuesday for West Liberty, accompanied by her cousin, Henry Cecil, who will bring back his sister, Miss Myrtle Cecil, who has been visiting relatives at West Liberty.

Carl Mize left on Monday for Louisville, accompanied by Charley Cravens, who will be placed in the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home. Hon. W. O. Mize, who attended the obsequies of Prof. Cord, at Mt. Sterling, Sunday, will meet his son at Lexington, and accompany him to Louisville.

Now, as it has been decided to have a stock sale here on Wednesday, May 11, 1910, every farmer in this section should be ready to attend and sell or buy on that occasion. This sale will give cattle traders and stock dealers generally a chance to come here and buy or sell a few days before the Mt. Sterling market. But the farmers of this immediate section should not fail to lend their assistance and do all they can to make it a success.

Sudden Death of Prof. W. H. Cord.

This community was shocked Friday about noon to hear that Prof. Wm. H. Cord, principal of the Hazel Green Academy for sixteen years, had dropped dead at Mt. Sterling just before the message was sent. No man in Eastern Kentucky was more devoted to the cause of education than was Prof. Cord. And surely no man ever did so much to educate the young men and young women of the mountains as he. During the years he had charge of Hazel Green Academy he educated to the point of a business career more young men and young women than any one man. He was a strict disciplinarian and held all students to a strict attention to their studies, for which young men, as well as many young ladies, from points all over the land will now mourn his demise. He came here in September, 1890, and was in charge of Hazel Green Academy until the end of the session of 1905-06, when he moved to Mt. Sterling and opened the Collegiate Institute in September, 1906.

The funeral services were held at the Mt. Sterling Christian church Sunday afternoon before the largest audience which ever attended a funeral service in that city, and the remarks of Reverends H. D. Clark and Bruce W. Trimble, who conducted the funeral, were proper and fitting tributes to the life and character of the dead professor.

After the services the procession to Macphail cemetery was started and there were 150 vehicles in line, while the entire school, headed by the various teachers, marched in a body to the grave, where 1,500 people stood with bowed heads to pay the last tribute to Mt. Sterling's most useful citizen.

The scene at the grave was especially pathetic and touching as the school children marched by the grave and each dropped a tulip on the last resting place of their dead friend and instructor. After a song, the Rev. Mr. Smith, of Lexington, offered a touching prayer, and all that was mortal of Prof. Cord was consigned to earth.

Memorial services were held at the Christian church here Sunday in his honor, and the hour chosen was the same in which his funeral was preached at Mt. Sterling, thus making it very appropriate. The services, which were conducted by Professor Willoughby, of Hazel Green Academy, were very impressive and were well attended. Cashier Patton, Kelly Nickell, J. Goff Long, George Rice, Joseph Estep, John Henry Williams, Jesse Kash, Miss King and perhaps others took part in the service and the scene was a very solemn one indeed. They all had in mind the fact that Prof. Cord did a great deal of good in this entire section of the country, and felt that it was due his memory to so express themselves.

Apropos of this there is a contemplated movement for the old students of Hazel Green Academy to contribute to a fund to build a monument to Prof. Cord's memory, and several have expressed themselves as willing to do so. Indeed, they are asking that the privilege be accorded them, and we hope they may be allowed the privilege, for we know that many of them hold his memory very dear.

Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute, the school Prof. Cord organized, and was making such a success, will be continued, with his son, Prof. Robert I. Cord, at its head, and stands as a fitting testimonial to the loyalty, devotion and energy and perseverance of the upright Christian gentleman who founded and organized it.

Horse Show Day.

The stallion show here Saturday brought quite a crowd to town and several good horses. Among those who had horses here, we noted K. M. Couch, of Grassy creek, who had his imported German coach horse Batalmus and another horse here; Frank Boling, of Campton, with two, viz: Le Grand, Jr., a saddle bred stallion, and Bill Palmer, a draft horse; Loring Nickell, of Morgan county, with his saddle bred stallion, Ned Forest, and a very fine young jack; John Chaney, of Morgan county, with his black Joe Patton horse; Z. T. Pence, of Caney creek, with a black stallion, and a Mr. Carpenter, of Morgan county, with a brown stallion. Corolus Chaney also had a jack here, Gray John. People generally picked Loring Nickell's horse as the most perfect horse here. But there was a diversity of opinion as to the merits of each horse. Elsewhere our readers will see something about Frank Boling's horses.

Frank Boling's Horses.

Le Grand, Jr., is a dark bay, 4 years old, 15½ hands high, by Old Le Grand 99; first dam by imp. Hedgeford; 2nd dam by Suey Chief; 3rd dam by the "old four mile saddle horse;" he by Clark Chief; 5th dam by Turner Denmark. Le Grand goes all the gait, is saddle bred on both sides and only has to be seen to be appreciated, as he was admired here Saturday. Licensed at $8.

Bill Palmer is a dark bay, 16 hands high and weighs 1,800 lbs. He has produced some of the best colts ever seen in this section of the country. He traces back to the Denmark family, although he is a draft horse. He is licensed at $6.

John Morgan, Jr., his jack, is 8 years old, 14 hands high. A fine breeder, and is licensed at $6.

Mr. Boling has a good string of them, and breeders will consult their interests by seeing them.

What Every Town Has.

The Grinnell (Kan.) Record hits the nails on the head when it says that every town contains "A liar, a sponger, a smart Aleck, a blatherskite, some pretty girls, a girl who giggles, a weather prophet, a neighborhood feud, half a dozen lunatics, a woman who tattles, one Jacksonian Democrat, more loafers than it needs, men who see every dog-fight, a stock law that is not enforced, a widower that is too gay for his age, a preacher who thinks he ought to run the town, a few who know how to run the affairs of the county."

Miss Nannie Brewer, who lives with the editor and his better seven-eighths, visited her brother, Millard Brewer, from Saturday until Sunday afternoon. While on her visit she also attended church at the Caskey school house Sunday.

In Memory of Mattie Lee Rose

Just in the budding springtime,
In the still, rosy morn;
Just in the glow of youth,
In womanhood's lovely dawn,
Came the "Reaper of the Flowers,"
Saw the beauty that she wore,
Chose her to brighten Heaven,
Bade her "Bloom on earth no more."

Lay away her school books,
With the Bible treasured so;
God's wisdom she is learning,
God's comfort she doth know.
Fold away the dresses
That our darling used to wear,
She hath put on immortal white,
Joined the angels over there.

'Twas only a few years of service,
Yet Earth was made the brighter,
Our faith and hope the stronger,
Our burdens a little lighter;
Then came Our Father's call,
And the night time drew,
Though glad she is at rest,
Without her we are so lonely here.

Oh, Mat Lee! through the future years,
Let thy spirit, gentle and pure,
Draw us ever heavenward,
Teach us patiently to endure;
Show how vain are worldly joys,
How blest be those who wait,
And may thy angel smiles greet us,
When we reach the pearly gate.

MABEL MAY.

Academy Notes.

Several of our boys attended the ball game at Campton Monday.

Misses Lizzie Dykes and Lucy Sweeney visited home folks over Sunday.

Joseph Estep left for his home last Monday to see his brother, whom he has not seen for six years. He will return the last of the week.

The girls' H. B. literary society gave a program in the chapel Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock. A large crowd attended.

The H. G. A. ball team went to Campton Monday and defeated them by a score of 21 to 8. Long and Williams did excellent pitching. The other players did exceedingly well. The Campton boys treated us well and we hope to return the courtesy when they visit us. And last, but not least, was that tempting dinner set before us by the St. Cloud Hotel people.

NICK

Every family and especially those who reside in the country should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by all dealers.

Complaint has been made to us that some one above here is polluting the river by putting sawdust in the stream, rendering it unfit for stock to drink and killing the fish. They say the water has an inky blackness and that horses refuse to drink it. We have no idea who the party or parties are, but we understand there is a heavy penalty for the act, and hope this will be a warning to those concerned. The attention of the proper authorities, be he game and fish warden or county judge, is directed to the matter, and for the sake of people who enjoy fishing and those dependent upon Red river for stock water, the evil may be stopped.

For Sale or Rent.

Good four-room cottage and lot containing one-half acre in the town of Hazel Green. Good barn and necessary outbuildings. Good water and fruit. For particulars apply to GEORGE P. DYER, Hazel Green, Ky.

Lexington, April 11, 1910.

Spencer Cooper, Hazel Green.

Dear Sir: Here are some gourd seed and very funny ones, too. I don't know where the seed came from that produced the gourd this came from, unless it sprang from Jonah's gourd that grew in a night and died in a night. You can raise six different kinds of gourds from those seeds—green gourds, ripe gourds, long-necked gourds, short-necked gourds, straight gourds and crooked-necked gourds. If there are more seeds than you want, just ask the person you give them to what kind of gourds they want to raise.

Truly yours,

A FRIEND.

Dave Wells, son of Jeff Wells, and Letha Rose, a daughter of Jim Rose, Jr., were married at the latter's residence, last Wednesday. Rev. Jim Rose, Sr., grandfather of the bride, joined the pair together.

Your correspondent would respectfully ask the editor of THE HERALD to pardon him for not sending any items for some time, but the serious illness of his wife and mother for two months prevented his gathering the news.

The board of education in the 6th sub-division met at S. H. Rose's store Saturday and N. L. Combs tendered his resignation as trustee for sub-district 7 which was accepted, and the board appointed Roe Bank, of Landsaw, to fill the unexpired term.

Last Friday night while your correspondent was entertaining J. H. Hager and daughter, they were startled by an unearthly squalling or screaming. Rushing out to investigate they found the house dog baying at something up a nearby tree. Firing his gun the object fell to the ground, and though severely wounded at once attacked the dog, which was larger than the average, and put up a stiff fight. It was finally dispatched and found to be a catamount about three feet in length.

THE HALLEY COMET.
It May Now Be Seen By the Naked Eye—Where To Look.

Halley's comet is now approaching rapidly, according to Washington scientists, and with favorable meteorological conditions can be seen with the naked eye. It will be visible all through April and will be at its brightest in May, attaining its maximum brilliancy on May 18.

Those who desire to have a look at the comet may do so by taking up a position, directly it becomes dark, facing due east. Find out Sirius, the "dog star," low down on the horizon on your left hand side. Take a perpendicular line from this until you come to the constellation of Gemini, or "The Twins," one above the other. Midway between these the comet passed in October last, going to the right, on through the constellation of Taurus, to the two planets Mars and Saturn, both high up in the southwest. Planets do not twinkle, and moreover, Mars is possessed of a distinct reddish tinge.

The comet's path lay between these two last month, and the comet itself will be found some little distance to the right. An easier way probably to find Mars and Saturn will be to take a line to the right from the top star of the Gemini, at an angle of about fifteen degrees till you come to five little stars, all clustered together. These are the Pleiades. Continue the line at an equal distance and you will find the planets in question. The above position of the stars refers to the time directly it becomes quite dark. It viewed, say, two hours later, all the stars will have moved to the right and Mars and Saturn will be found sinking in the west.

There should be no worry as to possibilities of asphyxiation should the tail sweep the earth. It has happened several times before with other comets, but no one was the wiser till after the occurrence. It must be borne in mind that all gases, no matter what their respective weights may be, have the power of diffusion, or of mixing up with one another and when one thinks of the immense distance the tail has to traverse before reaching us it will readily be understood that any gases composing it will be so attenuated as to be utterly imperceptible.

It will be perfectly safe to say, however, that there is no likelihood whatever of even the fag end of the tail reaching the earth's surface. There are no authentic records with regard to Halley's comet of it ever having done so, and since its last two appearances tended to show that its tail was diminishing, so much the more remote will the chance of reaching us this time.

much needless pain when they delay using Cardui for their female troubles. Cardui has been found to relieve headache, backache, pain in the side and dizziness, arising from deranged organs. It does more than relieve,—if used persistently,—many have written to say that it cured them.

TAKE CARDUI
It Will Help You

Mrs. Maxwell Johnson, Tampa, Fla., writes: "Cardui cured me after doctors and everything else had failed. I had been suffering with numb spells ever since I was 16 years old. One day I decided to take Cardui. I have now taken 5 bottles and I can say that it has cured me. I advise all suffering women to give Cardui a long and fair trial."

Mrs. Johnson suffered years. Have you? Do you wish to? But why suffer at all? Take Cardui. Give it a fair trial.
